Welcome speech

Dear Colleagues,

It is a great honor for me as a host and a Chairman of the Association of Maternal–Fetal Medicine to invite you to the forthcoming IInd Congress of Maternal–Fetal Medicine which will take place in period May 12-14, 2017, Hotel RIU Pravets Resort and will begin with an Ultrasound Course in prenatal diagnosis.

We expect over 200 participants, including specialists of obstetrics and gynaecology, maternal–fetal medicine, neonatology, surgery, genetics, cardiology, endocrinology. They will present their experience in the diagnostic, monitoring and therapy of pregnant women and their new-borns during the pregnancy and after the birth.

We will present the innovations in the ultrasound examinations of the fetus during the pregnancy and the practice of the revolutionary intrauterine fetal surgeries.

You will have the opportunity to learn the latest trends in the monitoring and therapy of the High-Risk Pregnancies by the leading maternal–fetal specialists from University clinics in Europe, who will be our special guests.

We will discuss the results from interesting and challenging cases, which we had been through the last year.

The participation of medical, laboratory and pharmaceutical companies will give information about technical characteristics and working with the latest high-tech ultrasound equipment, as well laboratory tests capacities for monitoring the cardio-vascular system, endocrinology system and haemostasis during the pregnancy.

Violeta Stratieva, MD, PhD
